Love is a contact sport... She's Lacey Nichols, self-proclaimed nerd and recent college grad working at a small publishing company. He's Myles McCrae, the most arrogant and inconsiderate man she's ever met. He's also the MVP quarterback of the Detroit Cobras. Insanely sexy, charming, young, and rich. And she's hates him. Actually the feeling is mutual. After a disastrous meeting on New Year's Eve, the two will never see each other again—or so they think. Since Myles chooses the publishing company that Lacey works for to publish his autobiography and her boss selects her to co-write, they'll be seeing each other more than she'd like to admit. One moment she can't stand being in the same room as him, the next she wants to straddle his muscular frame and feel every ridge and valley of his exquisite body. Working together in close quarters, Lacey realizes there's more than meets the eye to Myles than the flash and glitz of an all-star athlete. But is her heart ready to lower her barriers, even if that opens her up to heartbreak that could send her back into her shell forever? This is the first volume of the series. This 34,000+ word novella contains adult content.
