This third entry in a trilogy of daily journal entries from a finance person's time in Afghanistan walks you through her daily interactions with the US Military command and Afghanistan Ministry of Interior Finance Departments and Ministry of Finance Budget Department. Vol 3 covers the period Jan to Oct 2014. She worked at the highest levels of the financial world within the military command of Kabul. This is a trilogy of books from 2011-2014 for what really happened behind the scenes as billions of American dollars were used in support of the Afghan Security forces as we fought the war on terrorism. she presents what the daily life of a financial mentor/advisor in a war zone is like - no punches held back - from boring to exhilarating, thrilling to frightening.
