"The cold slides in...!', gathering inside each troubled heart beating in "On Antarctica Naked and Other Stories". These people come alive, fearful and wounded. Just like us. We enter their rooms, their thoughts and dreams, and feel our way along with them, in search of a warm place, a welcoming home in the icy world. Kristen Hovet's stories are powerful and chilling visitations. They glitter with dark beauty. Like the river in "Arkansas", each story 'is a tributary, flowing into something much greater and hungrier than itself.'" -Christine Boyka Kluge, author of Stirring the Mirror (2007) and Teaching Bones to Fly (2003) "Good writing will transport you to another place and time. Only GREAT writing will slip you so rawly into someone else's skin that you forget who you are for a moment.

Kristen Hovet's debut collection of stories reflects her incredible talent to step into the parts of the human mind and spirit that we often try to hush and ignore." -Hannah Simone, New Girl star Includes the following stories: Arkansas The Real Me Northmost Balding Soon The Militant Season On Christmas Eve, Drawing Lines With Your Pen There's Always Something On Antarctica Naked It's All in the Angle Engine All the Way
