Smart ... sexy ... and sassy ... Olivia knows exactly what she wants out of life. She has the perfect boyfriend, tons of friends, a thriving social life, and is entering her final year of college. She didn't think things could get any better. After a brush with the law, she is tossed into anger management. As part of her therapy she is paired with Theodore Clark, a devilishly handsome, cocky playboy. Sparks fly as Teddy turns her world upside down. She is shocked to discover nothing is what she thought. She starts to question her feelings for her boyfriend, Owen, as she fights to resist Teddy's charm. She knows Teddy only wants one thing and that simply isn't her style. Olivia learns quickly that Teddy is a complication in her relatively perfect life that she is completely unprepared for. She has to decide whether he's worth the trouble, and if he has a place in her perfect world.
