My name is Katrina Morehouse. Before you think this is your typical romance, let me stop you right there.

Yes, I am the poor girl from the wrong side of the tracks who has always been trying to fit in. Yes, he's the rich guy at the top of our class and star quarterback of the football team. This is where we meet, his family tries to keep us apart, and then we get our happy ending right? You'd be wrong. Drew Whitmore was the love of my life, but now he's not. As far as I am concerned he's now my enemy. I haven't seen Drew in more than three years. For me, nothing has changed. For him, everything has. Doesn't matter though, I will do everything in my power to stay away from him for good this time. This book is recommended for 18 and over due to scenes of sex, kidnapping, and strong language.
