After her estranged father suddenly dies, Lexi Weir inherits the Nobles Hotel and takes on the challenge of becoming its new owner. She is thrown in the deep end when she uproots herself from her life in London to start afresh in the sleepy countryside village.

Leaving behind her (now ex) boyfriend and luxurious London lifestyle she finds running a hotel can be an stressful business, full of weird accidents, mysterious guests, and rumours of Phantom bagpipers. When everything seems to be going wrong and Mark, her clingy ex-boyfriend, turns up causing trouble again, Lexi finds comfort from the handsome, George Clooney look-a-like; Sam Edwards. However, gossip soon spreads and revelations about her father's past start to interfere with their budding romance. Can Lexi make it work between her and Sam? Or will everything fall apart at her Getaway? 'The Getaway' is a funny and charming story about turning your whole life around and moving into the unknown. It is perfect for fans of Jilly Cooper and Erica James.
