

FRAUD

|                          |               |
|--------------------------|---------------|
| Pages:            | 258           |
| Goodreads Rating: | 4.71          |
| ASIN              | B008GSE7DY    |
| Language          | English       |
| Author:           | Peter Davey   |
| Genre:            | Mystery       |
| Published:        | July 1st 2012 |

FRAUD.pdf

FRAUD.epub

Beautiful, troubled superstar Nicola Carson is visited in the rehab clinic where she is a patient by a shy, ingenuous young man named Dominic Sealy. Gaining her trust, he proposes to her that they embark on a project to write her biography – a process which reveals, in a flashback spanning more than five years, that neither his motives nor her mental condition are quite what they at first appear. A serpentine, satirical novel set in the world of film and publishing.