This is the first of many episodes in a serialized adventure. It is about a young man named Kang. He is offered the chance to join a boy band in Korea. There are some things that happen in boy bands, that is a little different when they were popular in the USA.

If you find the story interesting, let me know so I know that I should continue the story.

He finds the experience quite eye opening. He learns that one of the other members acts like he might be interested in him, but in the end is he really? It is just the start of an adventure, that will take him some places he might wish he had never gone. It is before the fame and before the fortune.

What does it mean to be a room mate with someone you just met? And how far would someone go to gain fans in a KPOP band?
