A Felt Board Lady adaption of one of the greatest fairytales! A frog helps Princess Amanda find her golden ball in return for her promise of friendship. In fulfilling her promise, Princess Amanda must defend her actions when others question her choice of friend. Find out more in this adapted fairytale story, great for ages 2-8. For a younger child (ages 2 to 4): The colorful scenes and dialogue make this a fun story-time book. The concepts addressed involve how to be a good friend and the value of a promise. For an older child (ages 5 to 8): A twist on an old fairytale favorite! For the lower age range, this may be a helpful 'learning to read' book, which also addresses reading comprehension for the upper age range. For all ages: This story is fun and lighthearted, with colorful and appealing scenes! It also reminds us of the importance of keeping our promises. All images used to create this eBook are hand sewn from felt.
