On receiving a mysterious packet from beyond the grave, Enya Raffetty embarks on a quest to learn more about her family's origins.

Struck by lightning in the ancestral isolated Outback graveyard, she is transported back through time to 1899. Found unconscious by Lockland Dawson, a handsome jackaroo landowner, who claims her as his, she is kept at his new home, Kooyong Homestead. As Enya slowly regains her memory, she realizes she is not from this time yet having fallen in love with the magnetic Lock and developing friendships in the community; she hopes to remain.
